ANNIE AMBASSADORS PERFORM AT SHELTON

The Annie Ambassadors, a group of seven little girls, will be the entertainment for the president's reception at Shelton State on Tuesday, October 11. The Annie Ambassadors was formed, according to Tuscaloosa Community Playerns president Nanci Stewart, for several reasons. "Because of the popularity of this musical, there has been a great demand from civic clubs and other local organizations for these children to perform. Because of the rigorous rehearsale schedule of the actual cast combined with the children's school work, it was impossible for the cast members to meet all of these obligations. Montgomery used the Annie Ambassadors and it was highly Successful," Stewart said. "We had approximately 100 little girls to audition for only a few parts. The Ambassadors gives more children an opportunity to be a part of this production."

The Ambassadors will be performing as part of "Annie's Social Calendar," a printed schedule of the promotional events planned. Any school, club, or civic group that would be intreested in being placed on the "Social Schedule" during October should contact Stewart at 345-7605
